

Christina Aguilera Can Sit At The Black Table For Lunch Now

I had never paid attention to Christina Aguilera before Grammy night this year. She sang James Brown's "It's A Man's Man's Man's World" with emotion only comparable to Aretha, Chaka, Fantasia and Teena Marie. After this performance I will be on the lookout for her!