

Bob Marley Documentary Coming Soon

*The Bob Marley documentary “Africa Unite” will arrive soon in U.S. theaters thanks to Palm Pictures, which has acquired all North American and U.K. rights to the acclaimed work by filmmaker Stephanie Black.

The feature follows three generations of the Marley family as they take their first trip to Ethiopia for a landmark concert commemorating the late reggae icon’s 60th birthday.

The film also includes rare footage of Marley and many of his original recordings on the soundtrack.

read more