

Jimi Hendrix Still Gets Pimped By...

Janie Hendrix, half sister (her mother married Jimi's father) of Jimi Hendrix says it is bad for his half brother (same mothers) Leon to use Jimi's name to sell vodka read more Check out what you can buy with Jimi's image on it at the official site read more

Read Geoff Boucher's article about the neverending battle over's Jimi's legacy:

The rock legend's estate focuses on projects meant to reveal the man behind the myth.

By Geoff Boucher, Los Angeles Times Staff Writer

October 13, 2007

"Are you any relation?" You can imagine how often Janie Hendrix has heard that question from strangers who see her last name on her credit card or a restaurant reservation list. The answer is yes, she's the sister of the late, great Jimi Hendrix. There's often a second, unasked question in the eyes of those strangers: How could the guitar demigod have an actual human being as a relative?

read more