

B.B.King Adds More Dates To Ongoing Tour

*It appears as if blues icon B.B. King has no intention of ever slowing down. The 82-year-old road warrior, who has been on tour since forever, has just announced the addition of more than 30 dates to his itinerary – taking his U.S. trek well into next summer.

In addition to sprinkling more gigs into his previously announced run, King has tacked on another leg of shows that covers April, May and a couple of days in June, reports Live Daily. Details are listed below.
