

Free Press Interview With Stevie Wonder

Stevie Wonder is in the mood to reminisce.

It's hard not to, he says, whenever Detroit is on the agenda – as it is with a concert scheduled Tuesday at DTE Energy Music Theatre.

In a sense, Detroit is always on Wonder's agenda. The Motor City, where Wonder's storied career took flight more than four decades ago, is never far from his thoughts. But he likes the visceral rush, and few things bring the sensations flooding back like Motown's old Hitsville USA building – a stop he often makes when visiting his hometown.
