

Chris Brown Banned From BET Awards?

Now that we are all grieving over Michael Jackson we want the best tributes we can have for him. But BET only had a little time to reroute the show and the best person to perform for him is having a media crisis. It is said that Jay-Z and Al Sharpton spoke with BET and asked that Chris Brown be pulled from the show because of the Rihanna debacle. He did a great job saluting James Brown on the Grammy's two years and I had to post it since Michael comes from James.
