

Jay-Z, Rihanna & Bono Perform For “Hope For Haiti Telethon”

Media Questions Of The Week

1. Did the situation in Haiti really make The Fugees reunite?
 2. Will Waka Flocka Flame become the hottest new rapper now then he's been shot?
 3. Why do people care so much about Trey Songz's personal life when we all know that most entertainers are nothing like their public persona anyway?
-

John Payne, Of WIDEawake Entertainment Group Inc. To Speak At Urban Music Week Presented By Toronto Urban Music Festival

TORONTO, ONT — (JANUARY 22, 2010)

WHAT:

Urban music Conference: The Business of Urban Music. The first day of the music conference targets urban businesses, artists-entrepreneurs, managers, indie labels, publishers, booking agents, graphic designers, event and concert promoters, and web masters. The conference will assist urban businesses, artists-entrepreneurs network and develop professional and successful business practices in the rapidly changing music industry and new digital age through panel discussions and networking opportunities. Panels include: Music Publishing, Managing for success and Indie Labels.

WHO:

John Payne – WIDEawake Entertainment Group Inc.

WHEN:

Friday, January 29, 2010

12:00 p.m. – 8:00 p.m.

WHERE:

Fairmont Royal York Hotel
Upper Canada Room, 18th Floor
100 Front Street W
Toronto , Ontario

INFO:

John Payne is an accomplished music producer and engineer. John was the studio engineer in the early days of Death Row Records; the label that gave birth to West Coast's most well known rappers Dr. Dre, Snoop Dogg, Tupac, and Jewell. John's longevity and consistency in the Music industry has brought him full circle to WIDEawake Entertainment Group Inc. / Death Row Entertainment LLC.

DEATH ROW RECORDS OFFICIAL SITE:

www.deathrowmusic.com

Renowned Hiero Imperium Records Ready To Extend Legacy In 2010

