

New Reebok Classics release – “Triple Black” Kamikaze out Friday, July 8th

Reebok is ready to release details on the new Triple Black Kamikaze style dropping in stores on Friday, July 8th.

The Triple Black Kamikaze is a monochromatic all black hi-top sneaker with an upper made of leather, nylon and suede. It incorporates 3-pod Hexalite sole technology for superior cushioning, and systematically placed flex grooves on the outsole for added traction.

These are also the kicks that Rick Ross customized with gold paint and wore during the Hot 97 Summer Jam in NYC earlier this month.

The new Triple Black Kamikaze retails for $100 and will be available at these retailers:
