

Crooked I Launches C.O.B Clothing Online Store

Los Angeles, California – Aug 5, 2011 – Dominick “Crooked I” Wickliffe, and partners J.C, Gene Geiser, and Zack Johnson are proud to announce the new era for the C.O.B brand “the online era. C.O.B Clothing is now officially “plugged in” at www.cobworldorder.com.

The C.O.B Clothing line has already emerged in store locations from Southern California, Northern California, to Texas, and Washington. Now the plan is to capitalize on their high customer demand, and loyal Fans, and to expand their presence in the global fashion marketplace. C.O.B Clothing is capitalizing on today’s new technologically-driven society and making their merchandise more accessible for their customers.

C.O.B Clothing line includes outerwear, t-shirts, and hats with more in store merchandise to come. With support from entertainment artist such as, Young Money’s Corey Gunz, Bun B, SlaughterHouse and more, making C.O.B Clothing a part of their accessorized fashion sense, has their presence growing among the new generation.

C.O.B Clothing line was designed with trend driven styling for the fashion-conscience individual in mind. The line represents; individuality, strength and unity among youths and adults of all cultures, ages, backgrounds, and religions.

Check out www.cobworldorder.com to witness the uniquely styled men t-shirts available for purchase on the newly launched website now.