

Media Questions Of The Week

1. Is boycotting The Grammy's for a lack of cultural diversity going to be effective? And isn't it ironic that even though they still don't give hip-hop the respect it deserves, LL Cool J is hosting the show this year and Queen Latifah was the host in 2005?

2. Why is BET banning Nicki Minaj's video for "Stupid Hoe" when they've aired so many other "controversial" videos through the years?

3. Will anyone fill the void that Don Cornelius' s "Soul Train" and "Soul Train Awards" has left?
