

Media Questions Of The Week

1. Is RuPaul really going to make an album or a song with Honey Boo Boo?

2. Why are artists so upset about Pandora wanting to lower the royalty rates they pay to artists when terrestrial radio and Youtube pay no royalties? And in many cases terrestrial radio is paid promotional fees to play most major label music? And cable and satellite radio pay significantly less? Or how about the fact that most artists never receive their full royalties from ASCAP and BMI?

3. Will The Game's Jesus Piece album satisfy the fans?