

Raphael Saadiq-Gonna Miss You

Raphael Saadiq pours out his heart in a '60's soul styled dedication to the late Bobby Womack simply titled "Gonna Miss You." Saadiq, like many, has the highest respect for the recently passed soul man and he shares his feelings about him in the statement beneath the song's stream:

Bobby Womack is one of my musical soul International known Heroes, Never had to chance to work with him, or even talk to him, But I did get a chance to shake his hand and say hello, although he didn't know when I spoke to him, if felt like I knew him for a very long time, my parents would always play Bobby Womack Records in the house, and I continued to listen to them, So, much love to Bobby Womack and his Family, Here's Toast to Bobby, a song I finish last night after I heard the news,

Gonna Miss You!€

Have Beautiful Transition,
