

Erykah Badu Sings On The Streets Of NYC

[youtube id="KsQY8lqFScM"]

Erykah Badu goes incognito on the streets of NYC by removing a hat and adding granny glasses to sing a made-up song about needing money. It's hilarious when she accosts the people walking by with aggressive gospel licks to fill her hat with cash including a baby in a stroller. At the end of the event she counts $3.60. The whole thing makes you wonder what if she did the same thing again and was recognized as Erykah Badu.
