

Oshun Release Their Debut Mixtape Asase Yaa

New York City Oshun duo Thandiwe & Niambi Sala have released their debut mixtape Asase Yaa today for download. The Black Millennial bohós musically exist somewhere in the universes of Erykah Badu, Jill Scott and Georgia Anne Muldrow although they describe themselves as “Floetry meets Lauryn Hill meets Chief Keef.” Asase Yaa is a fertility goddess in Ghana and the mother of Anansi, the storytelling trickster god but here it means hip-hop and poetry within a soul continuum.
