"Unstoppable" is the first single and video from Lianne La Havas' sophomore album, Blood. The London singer/songwriter's profile has raised significantly since her 2012 Is Your Love Big Enough debut thanks to Prince performing in her living room, giving her features on his Art Official Age album and her appearing on SNL with him. She will perform new music from Blood this week on Later With Jools Holland. Her US tour schedule will resume in July around the time of Blood's release on July 31st.
