

Illa J-Universe

“Universe” is a new song from Illa J with '80's style R&B production from Vancouver's Potatohead People. Illa J recently relocated to Montreal and is preparing for the release of his second album that is produced by Potatohead People and Kaytranada in October. His collaborations with Potatohead People started with last year's “Never Left” and they already shared “Strippers” from the upcoming album in April. The self-titled project will be released on Bastard Jazz Recordings but you can get “Universe” now.
