

D'Angelo Receives Three Grammy Nominations & Announces New Tour Dates

D'Angelo's Black Messiah was one of the best R&B albums of 2015 and an incredible comeback story. After a 15-year absence, the singer-songwriter and musician joined an elite group of artists including Sade, who have left music for long periods and returned without any disappointment to the fans and critics alike. Black Messiah's political and love songs have been nominated for Record Of The Year, Best R&B Song ("Really Love") and Best R&B Album. There are also 6 new tour dates in the Pacific Rim during the month of March.

D'Angelo Tour Dates:

March 17th – Wellington, NZ – Arena

March 19th – Melbourne, Australia – Palais

March 21st – Sydney, Australia – Sydney Opera House

March 24 & 26th – Byron Bay, Australia – Byron Bay Bluesfest

March 28th – Yokohama, Japan – Pacific National Hall

March 29th – Osaka, Japan – International Convention Center