

Avery Sunshine Returns With New Single Come Do Nothing

Avery Sunshine has returned with a new song about having conflicted feelings about an ex-lover titled "Come Do Nothing." Sunshine states, "This is a song that shows the duality that most of us experience in relationships... 'I can't live with you but I can't live without you.' What better way to tell your ex or significant other how much you miss them than by telling them to 'come on over...we can do absolutely nothing and I'll be satisfied.'" Sunshine's second studio album for Shanachie Entertainment will be released in February of 2017.
