

Q-Tip Talks About A Tribe Called Quest's Last Album

Gayle King interviewed Q-Tip at his New Jersey home for CBS This Morning and they discuss A Tribe Called Quest and the release of their last album, We Got From Here...Thank You 4 Your Service. The album comes out tomorrow and it is one of the biggest music releases this year because it will mark the official end of an era. Q-Tip shows King his home studio, vinyl collection and the tracklisting for the album. He also talks about his lifelong friendship with group member Phife Dawg who passed away earlier this year.
