Omar is releasing his eighth studio album, Love In Beats on January 27th. The project was originally scheduled to come out last fall but his four-song EP, I Want It To Be was released. The Floacist, Leon Ware and Robert Glasper have guest appearances on Love In Beats. Omar recently posted video of himself listening to the new album on Twitter. The album can be pre-ordered and it will give immediate access to stream “I Want It Be” before the official release date. Love In Beats is available digitally, CD and on vinyl from Omar’s Bandcamp page.
