

A Tribe Called Quest Steals The Show At The Grammy's

<https://twitter.com/Kingwole/status/830990200859815937>

A Tribe Called Quest surprised the Grammy audience with their powerful performance of "We The People." Busta Rhyme's declaration that "President Agent Orange is perpetuating evil" and ATCQ are the most popular trending topics on Twitter regarding The Grammy's. The group brought Muslims onstage, knocked down a wall and encouraged everyone to 'resist' in obvious reference to President Trump's proposed wall and travel ban. Portraits of Phife Dawg hung high above in the ceiling and there was a lone microphone stand where he would normally be onstage. Anderson .paak and Consequence joined Jarobi, Q-Tip and Busta as the audience became more alive.