

Bianca Rose Releases Video For Hidden From Debut Album No Fear Here

[youtube id="mQcIrkthNck"] British folk singer Bianca Rose has a video for "Hidden" from her debut album No Fear Here. She also released a statement to explain the visuals that explore a young man learning how to communicate in a relationship;

"I am more than the sum of my mistakes." This is the message that was in my heart when I wrote "Hidden". It's an entreaty. A plea of sorts I'd say. The visuals depict an individual who is coming to terms with the fact that he is struggling with some mental health issues. Issues that have caused him to withdraw from those closest to him, and then the eventual resolve he finds to finally share what's going on inside of him. The overarching idea is that sharing any kind of oppression we are dealing with can often be the first step to breaking its power."
