Flying Lotus' current stage show is an adventure into the next level of the 3D experience with a light show by Strangeloop Studios, Timeboy and 3D Live. The concert tour features music from Flying Lotus with visuals featured on 3D Live's enveloping LED screens.

According to Flying Lotus:

"Everything about what 3D Live has done for the concert tour is going to blow people away,"

3D Live's core technology was originally developed for Michael Jackson's planned This Is It concert series, and since then it has been featured at the Coachella Valley Music and Arts Festival.

The visual show, which had its premiere at FYF Fest in July is touring throughout the U.S. Tickets are on sale now and can be purchased HERE.
