

Afropunk Collaborates With Vintage Zionist For South African Fashion Debut

Afropunk has teamed-up with South Africa's Vintage Zionist clothing brand to debut their fashion collection. The pieces were unveiled during SA Fashion Week A18. Designers Oscar Ncube and Mandy Newman created the collection that reflects the Afro-punk aesthetic through the usage of piercings of African tribesmen and women, slogans and distressed tees.

The clothing will go on sale in Johannesburg at Afro-punk Joburg December 30-31st. The festival takes place at Constitution Hill and the lineup includes Solange, Spoek Mathambo, Black Motion, Theo Parrish and more. Tickets are on sale now.
