

Tank And The Bangas Perform At NPR's 10th Anniversary Concert

[youtube id="XiR0YerSoEo"] Tank And The Bangas already have one of the most viewed Tiny Desk Concerts and they demonstrated the source of their appeal again at NPR's 10th Anniversary concert. Their four-song set came after a night of seven acts at the 9:30 club in D.C. but they still managed to stand out and take over the venue. The bouncy energy between the band members spread to the audience and gave NPR's party a grand ending. Tank And The Bangas are on tour now and will bring the New Year onstage in their New Orleans hometown.