

N.E.R.D. Will Headline The NBA All-Star Halftime Show

N.E.R.D. released one of the hottest albums at the tail end of 2017 and now they are getting ready to headline the NBA All-Star game halftime show. They will perform a medley of their hits as well as music from their new album No One Ever Really Dies.

The All-Star Weekend takes place next month in Los Angeles and the game will happen at the Staples Center.

Fergie will perform the national anthem and Kevin Hart will open before the actual game.
