Nigerian singer Nissi just debuted her new jazz and soul-inspired single "Favourite List."Â The artist who now calls London her home is following the exposure of her "Familiar" video that received international press coverage. Of the new song she says,Â

"I created this song the last time I was in my hometown Port Harcourt, literally surrounded by all the people I started my music journey with, in one room, just feeding off each others energy. It was such a love-filled spaced, without any worries, and it put in perspective, the things that really matter, and that  $\hat{a} \in \mathbb{T}$  what is really at the top of my favourite list.  $\hat{a} \in \mathbb{T}$

"Favourite List" is a definite stress-reducer thanks to Nissi's lyrics and nonchalant approach.Â
