

London Singer Laolu Returns With New Single How To Feel

South London singer Laolu returns after an almost three-year hiatus with new music from her forthcoming All In Me EP. “How To Feel” is taken from a situation the artist recently experienced.Â Laolu says,

“This song was about something I experienced recently that pensive insecure feeling of uncertainty in a relationship. The song originally started out as something completely different, but Dunc Suei, the producer, and I decided the song should go in this direction based on the vibe we got while recording, luckily the song turned out to be a proper R&B jam.”

Laolu’s All In Me EP release date is TBA.Â