

The Internet's Bass Player Patrick Paige II Releases Letters Of Irrelevance

Patrick Paige II usually works as the bass player for The Internet but today he releases his solo album Letters Of Irrelevance. The 11-song album uses R&B and hip-hop to weave its sound with appearances from Syd, Daisy, G-Perico Fortebowie and Kari Faux. The album's mellow vibe guarantees it will become synonymous with the summer of 2018.