[youtube id="au8QGTiPhEw"]Azealia Banks' "Anna Wintour" has a visual starring the rapper voguing in a warehouse. Banks' love of house and hip-hop are present in the single that is the first song from her Fantasea II album. The artist who is always making headlines for her controversial interviews is working almost single-handedly to bring classic house back to the mainstream. The minimalistic video is a reminder to music lovers that the dance music is about the body. Fantasea II comes out later this year.Â
