

Magestik Legend Reflects On Life In Video For All This Time

[youtube id="Ct1W2bqNZ1g"]Magestik Legend contemplates the direction of his life alone outside surrounded by space in the video for "All This Time." Lyrically he seeks the balance between survival and following a dream within the never-ending economic pressures of being an American. The absence of anyone else in the clip points to the self-reflective purpose of the song. Director Andy Madeleine captures Magestik Legend's movements as he walks through Mount Whitney, California's tallest mountain. The self-produced All This Time is Magestik Legend's first full-length album since Legend Has It from 2015.Â
