

Royal Wedding Singer James Francis Releases Video For New Single Free To Be Me

[youtube id="8-aaB3Ih6PM"]James Francis was one of the few singers to perform at Prince Harry and Megan Markle's wedding as a member of the Kingdom Choir. Last year the British singer released his first single "Want It All" and received a Jump Music Video Award nomination. "Free To Be Me" is his second release and video director Tyler Chalk filmed Francis walking around and dancing in London's Primrose Hill neighborhood as a show of civic pride. Francis is mapping out his solo aspirations and can also be heard in advertisements for The Great British Bake Off and Tesco.Â