

GoldLink Has Tiny Desk Concert & Got Friends Single With Miguel

GoldLink is keeping busy after having a featured appearance on Christina Aguilera's "Like I Do." Today he debuted a new single Miguel and a Tiny Desk concert. The DMV native and the R&B singer collaborated on "Got Friends" which is an ode to pretty women produced by The Stereotypes. GoldLink's performed four songs with a six-piece band and two singers for his NPR concert. This summer he is celebrating his success with Three Nights On U Street, a mini-concert series of three shows at U Street Music Hall in his hometown of D.C.
