

Lizzo Dedicates Video To Boys

[youtube id="HQliEKPglQk"]Lizzo has admiration for all kinds of men and she flaunts her interest by directing addressing them in the video for "Boys." Her costume changes, Queen-like poses, and bold nudity reveal more of an obsession with creating body-positive art than the pursuit of men. Lizzo's last single, "Fitness" was also a self-image workout with a high-energy video. The Minneapolis-based artist moves through the "Boys" video with a crew just as invested in being sexy and free. In 2015, she released her most recent full-length album, Big Grrrl Small World and since then she has shared a handful of singles. She is touring this summer and tickets are on sale now.Â
