

Little Simz Debuts New Song On HBO's Insecure

Little Simz shared new music last week with the addition of her single "Offence." Last night another song, "Boss" made its debut on HBO's Insecure. Issa Rae's show is becoming just as popular for its musical choices as they are for their storylines. Solange has served as the musical consultant on the show and Raphael Saadiq is the composer for the series. Little Simz will perform at Afropunk Atlanta and the Demon Dayz Festival in Los Angeles during the month of October. [youtube id="1qRiSS82jUg"]
