

Hero The Band Sing About Being Hollywood Rejects

Hero The Band sing about an addiction to love that's hard to break free from in their "Hollywood Rejects" video. The brothers from Atlanta filmed the video completely outside on hills, a bike trail and a pick-up truck. The larger-than-life stances match their colossal sound. "Hollywood Rejects" is their first new song since the release of "Gods Today" with Trinidad James and Childish Major this past summer.
