

Phony Ppl Premiere Video For Way Too Far

Phony Ppl shared one of their best videos today with the premiere of the Joe Weil-directed visuals for "Way Too Far." The stunning cinematography is set with a blue midnight tone and the camera scans the band on various floors of an endlessly tall building. There is daylight and later the view of New York City's subway before the events go back to the woman who is the focus of the song. There are cameo appearances from Patrick Page II of The Internet and Matte Brand creator Briana Shanee Wilson and Phony Ppl are currently touring their maëzë-ik album.
