

Lady Alma Brings The Twilight With Mark de Clive-Lowe

Lady Alma by Derek Brad

Philadelphia's Queen of House musicÂ Lady Alma shares "Twilight"Â from her forthcoming album of the same name exclusively produced by longtime collaborator Mark de Clive-Lowe. Alma's voice has been on the scene since the days of King Britt's When The Funk Hits The Fan. She has consistently recorded with de Clive-Lowe for more than a decade in between her world travels. The Twilight album is a compilation of her various projects with the producer who is known for his experimental jazz and broken beats sound. Jazzy Jeff explained her vibe accurately when he said, â€œIf youâ€™re looking for some true soulful emotion, here you go â€œ she makes me want to throw my hands in the air and party the night away!â€

Twilight the album comes out June 28th.Â
