

Freddie Gibbs & Madlib Have NPR Tiny Desk Concert

Freddie Gibbs and Madlib have a good time putting on a show for NPR's Tiny Desk. The pair perform four songs exclusively from their latest album Bandana. Madlib gives a rare display of his creative work by using bongos and a thunder tube to let the people see some of the ways he creates his sounds. The El Michels Affair band played with them and completed the overall warm vibe. Together they put the crowd at ease as they took over the room.Â
