

Livestream Prince's Purple Rain Concert For Three Nights

The Prince Estate has partnered with YouTube to live stream Prince & The Revolution: Live for three nights to support the COVID-19 Solidarity Response Fund for the World Health Organization. The 1985 concert was a stop on the Purple Rain tour in Syracuse, New York at the Carrier Dome on March 30th. The footage will be available on Prince's YouTube channel from Thursday, May 14 until Sunday, May 17th. Viewers can donate to the fund and Google will match every dollar given with two dollars.Â

Fans can chat with Revolution drummer Bobby Z at 7 PM ET before the concert airs at 8 PM ET. Andrea Swensson of Minnesota Public Radio 89.3 will moderate a Q & A session before the show.Â
