

King Lekan Releases No Time EP

King Lekan just released his No Time EP which is an exercise in tranquility. The New York-based Nigerian-American producer has been busy creating the sound behind afrobeats stars like Wizkid, Mr. Eazi and Olamide. The EP is Lekan's urgent need to share his own music as he says,

"No Time means that the time is now to show the world what I have to offer as a frontline artist, songwriter and producer. I want the project to highlight love and working hard in a positive light, and the songs on the project lend themselves to these two pillars – I want listeners to see that it's a good thing to fall in love and to work hard to make money the right way. Hopefully listening to the project will leave you with a feeling of empowerment to continue to strive for success, but also to remember to leave room for love and happiness while on your journey to success."

No Time is a blend of afrobeats and R&B with the benefit of rapper-singer Mojeed, world music collective The.Wav, UK afrobeats star Moelogo and emPawa artist Bemisoul.
