

Miguel Brings Back Art Dealer Chic Drops Video For Funeral

Miguel is restarting his Art Dealer Chic EP series and “Funeral” is a preview of the fourth installment. It’s been three years since Miguel’s War & Leisure which was the last time he released music. He took a break and he explained why and the mission of ADC 4:

“I took a long hiatus from the business of music to reassess my objective as a creator. The Art Dealer Chic EPs have always been reserved for freedom, self-curation and honest expression without the influence of music industry politics. I’m excited to introduce my fans to a very different world in my creative expression, and that begins with ADC 4.”

Watch the black and white video for “Funeral” co-directed by Philippa Price and Nina McNeely.