

Jacob Banks Shares Live Version Of Stranger

Jacob Banks has a new performance of “Stranger” done live from the back of a car. His emotive baritone makes the backseat feel like an auditorium. Earlier this year he released a cover of Alicia Key’s “Like You’ll Never See Me Again” and the popular video. Fans of the TV show Power will recall hearing his song “Unknown” during the season three finale. The London singer has had his music heard on other television series like Lucifer, Suits and Black Lightning in addition to a bunch of video games. “Stranger” comes two years after his debut album Village.
