

Tyler, The Creator: Call Me If You Get Lost Arrives Today

Tyler, The Creator's Call Me If You Get Lost was released today. His usual mix of youthful humor and low-key bragging give way to the maturity of self-reflection. He cops to getting older and even apologizes to Selena Gomez for past Tweets. There are guest appearances from Pharrell, Frank Ocean, Lil Wayne, Lil Uzi Vert and DJ Drama among others. Sonically the canvas is painted with trap energy, mellow jazz, soul and a bit of reggae. Call Me If You Get Lost follows up Tyler's 2019 Grammy-winning IGOR. The new album has merchandise including box sets of t-shirts and cassettes. He also dropped the Wolf Haley-directed video for "JUGGERNAUT."
