

Tierra Whack Drops Rap? EP & Video For Stand Up

Tierra Whack ends the year with the release of her Rap? EP. It is her first official release since her critically acclaimed 2018 Whack World debut. There's been guest appearances and singles along the way including songs with Lil Yachty, Willow Smith and Flying Lotus. She released the song "Link" with schoolchildren last spring for Lego's Rebuild The World campaign. The Rap? EP reestablishes her presence as one of the most striking among her rap peers. Her rap flow moves between trap-inspired and experimental. "Stand Up" is the most commanding of the three-song playlist. The sound and video are unquestionably descended from Missy Elliott's blueprint but the influence does not obscure Whack's voice. Tickets to see her in Chicago on December 17th are still available.Â
