

Mahogany Jones Is Back With A Video For Cheque

Mahogany Jones surprises with a video for “Cheque” from her next album Better. Filmed mostly in a pool hall and outdoors, the emcee breaks down her microphone skills and the importance of receiving a check because visibility alone won’t pay the bills. She endlessly stacks her verses while looking at the camera and giving the world a rare look at Highland Park, Michigan. Video director Diego brings out Jones’ lady boss persona with plenty of red and a touch of the avant-garde. The release date for Better has not been announced but watch Mahogany Jones show you what it means to execute and receive a “Cheque.”
