

Hugh Klein Returns With Lead The Way

Australian R&B singer Hugh Klein returns with his third single "Lead The Way." It was three years ago when he released his debut song, "Quand C'est Mou" which was followed by sophomore single "Sensitive." "Lead The Way" is a slow walk to intimacy with its soft keys and subtle drum sounds. Klein amps up the romantic mood by alternating between English and French. He leaves it up to his lover to direct their next moves as a couple getting closer together. The song is the first from Klein's No Plans, No Rules album. The former Down Under resident now makes Paris his home and the city's reputation for romance is a big influence on the forthcoming record that does not have a release date.
