

Media Questions Of The Week

The image shows a placeholder for an Instagram post. At the top left is a circular profile picture icon. Below it are two horizontal bars representing the name and bio. In the center is the Instagram logo. Below the logo is the text "View this post on Instagram" in blue. At the bottom, there is a caption area with several lines of redacted text, followed by a horizontal line and two more lines of redacted text. At the very bottom, it says "A post shared by Earn Your Leisure (@earnyourleisure)".

Is Larenz Tate right about Hollywood placing a higher value on Black British actors?

Are AI-generated songs of artists like Ghostwriter's Drake and Weeknd "Heart On My Sleeve" duet really a threat to the artists whose work gets used?

Did Ed Sheeran plagiarize Marvin Gaye's "Let's Get It On" for his single "Thinking Out Loud?"
