

Listen: Andra Day-Where Do We Go

Andra Day has released the visualizer for the silky “Where Do We Go.” The powerhouse singer shared the new single on Instagram and revealed that it would be on her next album. Day’s debut album arrived in 2015 and since then she’s been busy with movie music for Marshall, Ben-Hur, and The United States vs Billie Holiday where she played Holiday and covered the singer’s iconic “Strange Fruit.” “Where Do We Go” sounds like the first song in a diary about a relationship. Day’s vocals command the same kind of deepened emotion whether she is singing about freedom or love.