Madlib lost his home and lots of music in the Los Angeles fires. The producer shared the ordeal on his Instagram page, revealing that decades of music were destroyed in the fire. Hip-hop fans know him for his work on Stones Throw, where he recorded the collaboration album Champion Sound with J.Dilla. He also took Blue Note's catalog and reworked it into Shades of Blue. Freddie Gibbs worked with him on their collaborative album Piñata and Bandana. Madlib also announced that the non-profit LOVElikeWATER has launched a fundraiser to help him and his family rebuild. Flying Lotus and DJ Premier, Stone Throw, and Freddie Gibbs shared the information with their followers.

Another great Legend @madlib has completely lost his entire home and belongings to the California fires. A donation box has been set up. This is the only legit link. Thanks Stacy Epps for helping get this organized. <https://t.co/ChBfilomdE>
